

Cliffhanger by Jacqueline Wilson

'Cliffhanger' is about a boy called Tim who is not very sporty and his dad hates that he isn't so he sends him to a camp called Adventure Holiday.

Tim is a little boy around the age of eleven and hates sports but his dad loves them so he decides to send him on an adventure holiday, but his mum was not so sure about this and told him that if he did need to be picked up he could call them and they would pick him up.

Tim arrives at the adventure holiday and does not like it a bit. They are doing everything that he didn't want to do, but thankfully he is not the only one that hates sports because there is a boy called Biscuits and he is obsessed with food and is always eating. They are staying in a cabin along with a boy called Giles who is so very horrible and snobby. They do many sports and activities. One of the first ones is canoeing which Tim saves Teresa (Kelly's doll) and a game called Triangles. Tim is petrified of heights and doesn't want to abseiling but when he does he for gets the one rule which is don't let go but thankfully he grabs hold of the rock and hangs on for dear life.

Coming toward the last bit of the holiday they have a bucket race and Tim was very careful along with Biscuits carrying the water but one of the cheaters knock him over so he runs back to the lake to fill his bucket with water and when he reaches the stream he has to figure out a way to get across but he can't so he tell the bossy Giles to pick up the pipe and put in the baby tiger's mouth. Then they put the water down and won the race.

After that Kelly and Tim become very close and they become girlfriend and boyfriend although Tim did not really want to be. On the day that Tim is picked up he is getting to the point that he dent want to go but he does and he tell his parent everything.

I picked this book because I enjoy stories about holidays
