Newsletter of Arnold Junior School

13th March 2009

The Junior School turned Friday 13th into a very lucky, and very silly day, by entering into Red Nose festivities full on.

To help raise money, the staff and children were allowed to exchange an item of their uniform for something red, wear crazy hair, take part in a sponsored silly walk, add jokes to the joke wall and buy Red Nose cakes. As you can see, they all had a very silly and enjoyable day. Thank you to everyone for taking part, especially to Mrs Woodman and Mrs Webster who baked well over 200 cakes.

Mr Hopkinson's favourite joke from the infant joke wall:

Why don't the prawns share their toys?

Because they're shellfish!!!

Riding into Town

Junior choristers have been practising hard with great enthusiasm for their production of "Ye-Ha!" Many thanks to all parents who have sent in hats, shirts and jeans. The production takes place next Thursday at 7.00 pm.

Friends, Romans and Year 3

On March 10th, year three had an interesting visit to Ribchester Roman Museum.

After a lively fact finding question and answer session, the children handled artefacts and tried on armour. Jason Gallagher and Tari Nkhalamba certainly looked ready for battle dressed as legionary and auxiliary soldiers! All the children had a chance to try on helmets, hold shields and a child friendly sword.

A fine morning allowed us to venture outside to view the remains of the fort granaries and try to imagine life in a fort over two thousand years ago. Finally we looked around the Museum and, of course, visited the shop.

This is a very worthwhile trip that consolidates and extends our learning about the Romans. It is also very pleasing to hear the Curator comment on the pupils' enthusiasm and behaviour.

Entry into School

I would like to remind all parents that they must not gain access to the Junior School via the doors at the rear of the building. All visitors, including parents, must use the main entrance. Thank you. Mr Hopkinson.

Goal!!

On Tuesday March 3rd, as part of our work around World Book Day, year five and six enjoyed a visit from Tom Palmer; an up and coming author of football and detective stories such as 'Foul Play'.

Each class listened to Tom talk enthusiastically about the life of an author, how to get ideas and write stories.

They then experienced a football and story based quiz, which became very competitive, and ended with a penalty 'shoot out' in the library! This was especially enjoyed by the children because the teachers were the goalkeepers!

It was a lively and inspired presentation, promoting comments, such as, 'I have started reading Tom's book and I can't wait to read the rest.' It is always pleasing to invite an author into school, who can excite and motivate children to read different books and write their own stories.
